

Kombi work board

An implement for use both in playing and teaching – individually, two and two or in groups

Kombi work board provides opportunities for variation in teaching and playing, as the working areas consist of several different materials and colours. The large, defined working area helps the pupil to concentrate on the task. The work boards are used when you need to work with ready-written letters and words or with symbols, pictures and objects. Kombi work board is used among other things for concept attainment, communication training, vision stimulation, movement stimulation and fine motoricity training.

The work board consists of a frame in aluminium (500x400 mms.) with three panels, of which two are reversible. One of the reversible panels has a magnetic whiteboard side and a yellow, black or blue Velcro side. The other reversible panel has Velcro cloth on both sides, one yellow and one black. The third panel is made of transparent plastic with folds/pockets and is fitted to one of the Velcro sides. Flannel material can be used on the Velcro sides. All the panels are sold separately. The combi-board is used at six different working angles and is collapsible. Supports for illustrations are available as accessories.

Whiteboard side

Used for drawing, painting and creating picture stories.

Also used for all forms of activity with magnetic materials and for fastening drawing paper and worksheets.

Folded plastic panel

For communication training, object-picture and picture-symbol. Fasten objects with blue-tack directly on the panel and place pictures in the folds.

Also used for games like memory, lotto and simpler card games.

Velcro side

Used for objects, pictures and symbols fitted with Velcro.

Useful as a foundation for fixing touch switches in the board's various working angles.
